My response (again, coached by John). She supplied information gradually and incompletely during the succeeding two weeks. Whatever organization she did wasn't apparent at the beginning.

Example: The bus is arranged. Left out is information such as when, where, what company, is there a contract, and so on. Deb Rice eventually nailed all that down for us.

The "when leaving for Germany" was to determine if she was leaving, or just bailing on the German visit. She didn't leave.

Sabina:

I'm sorry to hear about your mother. When will you be leaving for Germany?

Please forward to me all the arrangements you've already made, including:

- who is coming, their names and emails
- times
- dates
- lodging
- dinners and lunches and such as have been arranged
