

Zimbraburtons@uwplatt.edu*Re: cyber crimes*From : Sabina Burton <burtons@uwplatt.edu>

Mon, Nov 19, 2012 09:55 AM

Subject : Re: cyber crimesTo : Thomas E Caywood <caywood@uwplatt.edu>

Thank you for this info. I will get in contact with the instructors of the courses outside of CJ that we would list as options for the certificate. After that I will put together a proposal to share with everyone here at CJ.

Perhaps within 1-2 years we will have our first students with a homeland/cyber security certificate.

----- Original Message -----

From: "Thomas E Caywood" <caywood@uwplatt.edu>

To: "Sabina Burton" <burtons@uwplatt.edu>

Sent: Monday, November 19, 2012 9:36:59 AM

Subject: cyber crimes

I've though about this over the weekend. For all our emphases the 15-16 credits were in criminal justice.

15 credits are required and the theory and research would bring it to 21 and the emphasis would bring the total cj credits to 36. Adding outside courses to an emphasis would fall short of the 36 required credits.

A certificate may be the appropriate way to go.

Tom Caywood, Ph.D.

Chairman, Criminal Justice Department

UW-Platteville

