I make decisions based on the information at hand. My comment to Roger was based on the information you had provided that you were an intelligence research specialist from 85-90. Nothing more or nothing less was meant by my comment.

You are a valuable asset to this department. I've tried to be supportive of what you are doing. I worry you do to much. We agree in many area and we will disagree as well. I'm looking at the department as a whole.

Tom,

After his discussion with you today Roger thought I should recap my previous experience as he said that you were under the impression that my previous intelligence work was limited to analysis. As you can see by my extensive involvement in the attached file I have been much more than a mere intelligence analyst and continue to work with others in this field today. The title of intelligence analyst is what I use on my CV that goes out to the general public.

Some of this is confidential and should not be included with the rest of my openly available CV. There are other aspects of my history that I am not including due to its sensitive nature.

Thank you for taking the time to talk with Roger today. I hope our working relationship will improve going forward.

Best regards,

Sabina
