So glad to hear from you :). I started to worry about you.

Please talk to either Dean Throop or Jeanne Durr. Both are very nice and easy to talk to. I can go with you and accompany you to either one's office if that would make it easier for you.

Take care and see you later?

Sabina,

Sorry I am just emailing you back, I got sick over the weekend and got tied up with a bunch of things and I just forgot to check my email. I do not think you did anything wrong, I appreciate what you did and I appreciate how the university handled it and how quickly actions were taken. I really don't know what more the university can do now, I just have to make it through Dr. Gibson's class. I can meet with Dean Throop, or the AA Director, all I can tell them though are my concerns with the experiment. Being in Dr. Gibson's class was a little weird on Monday, I really did not want to be there, and everytime he walked by, I felt a little uncomfortable. Today in class I felt about the same way, but he wasn't around our group as much, which was nice.

Alexandra,

I understand that you don't want to deal with this incident anymore. Please respond or let me know if you think I did something wrong. Are you upset I notified my supervisors? I had to do it and it appears the university has taken all necessary actions to address the incident.

Dean Throop and our Affirmative Action Director addressed the issue with Dr. Caywood and Dr. Gibson today. Dean Throop asked me to contact you so you would talk to either her or AA Director Jeanne Durr. They would like to resolve the problem and make sure all your concerns have been properly addressed. This shouldn't take longer than you want to talk about.

Thanks,

S. Burton
