Tom,

This is the email I got from Alexandra earlier today. I have not asked her if it was ok to forward it to you. I thought you should read it to better understand how it has affected her.

Thanks,

Sabina

Hi Sabina,

Sorry I am just getting back to you now, I was just able check my email. I received Dr. Gibson's email explanation, I am not quite sure how to take that it was just an experiment. For this "experiment" that he did, I feel that knowing what he was doing, he should have alerted other professors of what he is doing because of the nature of this experiment. I still don't know if I really believe if it was just an experiment to show the class what we are doing. Yes, we just started talking about breach experiments, but this kind of experiment that he did I feel is inappropriate. I did not think this was funny, as I see that he thinks it was. I want to also add, that I guess why I am also still not sure on how to take all this is because of some of the examples that he uses in class are a little out there, for example, on Wednesday his example was of him walking into class naked and what some of our reactions would be(I could explain that part better in person, but I feel that it is a bit important, it sometimes is uncomfortable hearing a male teacher say that). Some of the times it is just weird and I feel that I will be uncomfortable sitting in his class for now, maybe after a while that would change, but I am still uncomfortable with what happened, and don't think I can trust him. Also, should I still contact the woman from student affairs?

Alexandra

Hi Alexandra,

Is everything ok? Have you received an explanation? I don't know what to think of it just yet ...

Let me know if you need to talk.

Have a great fall break.
