I don't believe you were CC'd. I will look to the calendar to discuss next steps.

I've received nothing. At this juncture, I really am not going to have time to deal with this until next week and neither will the Provost; it sounds as though that timing will be too late.

These kinds of granting opportunities, particularly a potential award of this size, need to be planful and clearly strategic, bringing all salient units into the discussion from the start.

Because this is so last-minute, there can be no discussion of the strategic nature of this grant and whether it fits in with larger educational projections and needs of the college and the university. Therefore, I request that all work on this matter cease. I will not be signing off on this grant.

I'm sorry about this, but we must be much more deliberate and thoughtful in our granting strategies.

I will be unavailable after 3 p.m. Thursday as that is when the Campaign Cabinet will be meeting, and I will be on the road on Foundation business Friday starting at 5:30 a.m. I will not be available to sign the form unless you bring it to me at the Campaign Cabinet meeting (and I will be unavailable between 5-6 p.m.) and I'm not authorizing anyone else's signature for this particular project.

Given that the System and UW Platteville policy is 40% for indirects, I'll expect to see an indirect figure of at least $116,000.

Please provide me with whatever draft of the proposal is available ASAP. I have only heard about this in very, very general terms. I also need to see the draft budget immediately.

Thanks,
Liz

Dear Liz and Mittie:

My staff are working with Dr. Sabina Burton to complete a National Science Foundation grant submission which is due this Friday. We are burning the midnight oil this week to get this ready as Bob was out all last week for a family emergency. This grant is for a cyber scholar capacity building project and will total approximately 292,000.00. The indirect range will be $98,000 to $116,000 depending on some student stipend costs that we are still calculating. The transmittal form will likely make its way through late Thursday or Friday morning. If you are not going to be in your office and would prefer a PDF copy of the transmittal form and a copy of the proposal please let us know by emailing Rebecca Savoy. Bob is carrying the heavy load on this one for my office as both Kathy Lomax and I will be travelling on Friday.

Thank you.
